WELCOME TO THE SHOW

Dear Show Visitors,

Welcome to the Royal Windsor Flower Show, the annual event of the Royal Windsor Rose & Horticultural Society. This year marks the 115th year of the Flower Show and it is exciting to see how it continues to develop and bring together a wonderful community of like-minded people. We are delighted to reveal our thrilling lineup, including the quintessentially British Competitions' Marquee, the Making & Craft Tent, the dedicated Children's Area, a host of fascinating talks, demonstrations and workshops, the Plant Hub featuring exceptional British plant nurseries and lots of fun entertainment for all ages!

This year also marks the Platinum Jubilee of our patron, Her Majesty The Queen, and we will be celebrating this important event throughout the Show. Look out for the Queen's Platinum Jubilee Garden designed by award-winning designer Alan Williams of Landform Consultants as well as the children's competition entries for 'a miniature garden fit for a Queen' and the winning flower arrangement that will be presented to Her Majesty The Queen and displayed on her breakfast table. We are also delighted to welcome the great gardener and tv presenter Alan Titchmarsh, the Honorary President of the RHWHS, as well as a host of remarkable talent from the worlds of gardening, cookery and craft.

Our aim is for the day to be full of inspiration, insights and fun and we hope this Guide will help ensure you enjoy as much of it as possible.

Andrew Try, DL, Chairman

WHAT'S ON

For GARDENERS

Plant Hub, Show Garden, Master Gardeners and the Talks & Demonstrations Marquee

We have created a vibrant and dynamic Plant Hub for visitors to buy and engage with brilliant British Plant Nurseries (listed below). This area will be hosted by Chris Collins, Head of Organic Horticulture at Garden Organic and former BBC Blue Peter gardener. Chris will host hourly talks and demonstrations by the growers so this is a great area to keep returning to as the day unfolds. Talks/demonstrations will last around 15-20mins. They start at 10:30am and run hourly throughout the day until 4:30pm.

Delight in the Queen's Platinum Jubilee Garden by designer Alan Williams of multi-award winning Landform Consultants, sponsored by Property Partnership, and the stunning displays on vintage plantsman's trolleys created by six exceptional professional gardeners for the Master Gardeners' Competition supported by Villaggio Verde, as well as renowned gardener-cook Aaron Bertelsen's charming display. You can also enjoy 'Question Time for Gardeners', an 'In Conversation' with the great Alan Titchmarsh. We also have live demonstrations from a line-up of talented florists and wonderful designs by five Flower Arranging Clubs. And look out for the floral photo frames where you can have your picture taken!

Budding young gardeners will also be able to join Little Muddy Boots in the Children's Area to take part in some fun plantings and making 'bees' that they can take home. You will also spot wheelbarrow displays around the showground created by talented local school children.
